Benefit event seeks sponsors

The ninth annual "Let Me Win" Golf Classic, to benefit the Washtenaw County chapter of Special Olympics, will be held July 30 at the University of Michigan Golf Course. Though the 144-player field is filled, hole and corporate sponsorships are available. Call (313) 386-4574 for more information. Also, the Ann Arbor company Web Elite has announced that it will donate a Web site, www.sowc.org, to the group.

GOLFING FOR SPECIAL OLYMPICS

Monday's 'Let Me Win Golf Classic' at the University of Michigan Golf Course benefited Special Olympics in Washtenaw County. At right, Tim Flores practices putting under the guidance of Mike Leoni, one of the organizers. Below, Chris Macy sinks a putt as his mom, Jackie, and golfer Alan Hatcher celebrate. One of the celebrity players was Bo Schembechler, who coached Leoni in football at U-M. The event was held to raise funds to assist in the cost of sporting events throughout the year and to finance uniforms and transportation to and from events.
